DISPLAY WEEK; MAY 2016 SAN FRANCISCO

PAST EVENT

This year's Display Week took place in the Moscone Convention Centre.

Hosted by the Society for Information Display (SID), Display Week 2016 showcased the latest in innovative technology developments. As the premier conference and tradeshow for system integrators, designers, consumers, scientists, engineers and manufacturers in the field of electronic display technology, the 53rd annual event, held in San Francisco in late May, was both lively and memorable.

More than 7,000 people attended Display Week 2016

New AR/VR technology

AUGMENTED & VIRTUAL REALITY

Sessions on augmented and virtual reality were among the most popular with the 7,000-plus attendees, who were eager to learn about the latest advancements in this fast-growing display segment. Experts also expanded on automotive and wearable technology, OLED TVs, advanced touch screens, haptic feedback devices, electronic paper, quantum dots and even more exciting developments yet to hit the market.

THE INNOVATION ZONE

One of Display Week's unique features is the Innovation Zone - where researchers and start-ups alike demonstrated prototypes of emerging products and technology, giving our attendees the chance to see best-in-class emerging display technologies in a dedicated area on the show floor.

The I-Zone was one of the most popular exhibits at Display Week
